

About the Game

The first form of Roulette was devised in the 18th century in France whereas the mechanism was a hybrid of a gaming wheel invented in 1720 and the Italian game Biribi.

The Roulette wheels used in the Casinos of Paris in the late 1790's had red for the Single Zero and black for the Double Zero. To avoid confusion, the colour green was selected for the Zeros in Roulette wheels starting in the 1800's.

Game Overview

Roulette is a game of chance where players aim to predict the number segment where a ball will land once the wheel stops spinning. There are two main types of roulette wheels: Single Zero Roulette, which has 37 segments numbered 0-36, and Double Zero Roulette, which has 38 segments numbered 00-36.

Every roulette game comes with a house edge, representing the percentage of all bets expected to be kept by the casino over time. The lower the house edge, the greater the proportion of bets returned to players. At Crown Sydney, Single Zero Roulette has a house edge of 2.70%, while Double Zero Roulette has a house edge of 5.26%.

Crown Sydney's Rules of the game of Roulette are approved by the Independent Liquor & Gaming Authority. Visit www.liquorandgaming.nsw.gov.au or contact VIP Hosts for further information.
